TERMS OF REFERENCE

Supply, Delivery, Installation, Testing and Commissioning of Integrated Body Worn Camera with Wireless Transmission

I. BACKGROUND/ RATIONALE

The Office for Transportation Security (OTS) is acquiring body worn cameras for the day to day operational use of the Security Screening Officers (SSOs) and Screening Supervisors located in various airports nationwide for improved monitoring stance in the transportation systems of the country. This will give aforesaid officers the ability of documenting evidence from interactions with the passengers and for response units, giving the ability for live command and control as well as documenting events.

Bodyworn camera units will have live streaming capability over cellular and Wi-Fi, even at very low bandwidths, to ensure that administrators have the ability to see what the ground officers can see in real time. Getting both real time imagery, and evidential quality recordings, is critical for government personnel who are interacting with the public, and performing intercept or stop and search duties. It provides transparency and clarity which will increase public confidence and stops spurious claims against our personnel. It will also provide personnel security, by providing a panic button for the officer to press if he is distressed or under attack, and provides live real time GPS positioning of the officer for both safety and efficiency purposes.

II. DEFINITION OF TERMS

Body Worn Camera (BWC) – relatively small devices that record interactions between community members (e.g., the public, suspects, and victims) and law enforcement officers.
